about

DJ Dris, from London, UK, creates music that blends various genres and styles, from Afrohouse, Afro Tech, Funky House and Tribal House. With a keen ear for melody and rhythm, he has crafted unique sounds that illustrate his upbringing.

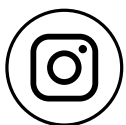

After having built his audience through a vast career as a Radio Host in stations such as Croydon FM and Subtle Radio, he now frequently brings new music to the Afrohouse music scene.

DJ Dris is described as a musical explorer by many as he takes his auditors on a journey into the depths of his tribal sounds, guided most often by soothing vocals. While his creations are most often coupled with the genres Tribal and Afrohouse, a few of his tracks can be described as soulful or uplifting, bringing further emphasis to his qualities of explorer.

He has made it known that he is planning on sharing numerous of his unreleased gems over the next months, "It's about time that the world hears what I have been holding in store for the longest".

With 2 releases a month since November 2023, Dris is building a repertoire that frequently gives his fans something fresh to talk about, while building his image as a pioneer of afro-infused electronic sounds.
